Treasury Department,

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., March 24, 1879.

A. Loudon Snowden, Esq.
Supt. Mint U.S. Philadelphia.

Sir:

I have received your letter of the 22nd instant, relative to reducing the price of silver proof sets and proof trade dollars, and stating that if the price be changed, persons who had purchased early might think they had been unjustly dealt with.

The price fixed for the sale of proof sets is approved by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Department has the right to change the price at any time irrespective of what they may have been sold for during the preceding months of the year.

I will therefore thank you to furnish this Office with a schedule of such prices as you deem just and proper to charge in future for proof sets and single proof coins, in order that I may procure the approval of the Secretary to the proposed change.

Very respectfully
